

ALTUSCIO NETWORKS AND INDIGO TECHNOLOGIES MERGE TO CREATE ENHANCED INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY AND MANAGED IT SERVICES COMPANY

Combined Company to Provide Wide Range of IT Services Nationwide

(Atlanta, GA) August 14, 2009. Altuscio Networks (Altuscio), an Atlanta-based full service Information Technology (IT) company supporting small and medium sized business throughout the greater Atlanta area, announced the acquisition of Indigo Technologies, LLC (Indigo), an Atlanta-based managed IT solutions company. The combined company will provide a comprehensive suite of managed IT services, remote system monitoring packages, software and database design, business networking and support services, network design and cabling services, IT relocation services, server maintenance and repair, as well as complete telephony system support and other specialty services.

Altuscio Networks is a locally owned and operated company founded in 2000 by Ben Silliman, who will serve as CEO of the combined firm. From inception, Altuscio has grown to support more than 1000 clients throughout the metro Atlanta area. Indigo Technologies, LLC was founded by Tom Raymond and Gregory Geodakyan, who will serve as Vice President of Business Development and Director of Integration & Development respectively, for the combined firm. Over the years, Indigo has served hundreds of small and medium-size businesses, providing effective and reliable managed IT solutions.

According to Mr. Silliman, "Combining Altuscio and Indigo significantly improves our ability to provide superior managed information technology services that address the entire workflow for business owners who depend on their various computerized systems to work in harmony and function reliably. Altuscio Networks enables its clients to focus on running and growing their businesses armed with the knowledge that all of the computer systems are easily scalable, regularly well maintained and can be swiftly repaired as required, all accomplished with far less overhead cost or the need for a large internal infrastructure." Mr. Raymond states, "All of us are truly excited to be part of the continuing evolution of managed information technology services and the combination of Indigo and Altuscio Networks creates a deeply experienced and energetic management, technological and sales technician team, with a broad range of the latest technology at our disposal. All of this puts Altuscio in a noteworthy position in the Atlanta market and on a national level."
